

Tombouctou
MANUSCRIPTS PROJECT

مشروع مخطوطات تومبكتو

huma
institute for humanities in africa

Indonesia 101

A talk by Saarah Jappie (Princeton University)

From Jan van Bougies to Bandung and beach holidays in Bali, the Indonesian archipelago emerges in the South African imagination in multiple ways. While central to the social and cultural history of early Cape Town, Indonesia remains a distant and little understood space. In this presentation Saarah Jappie offers an introduction to the history, languages and culture of modern Indonesia, drawing on its links to the Cape Town context.

Date: 3 August 2015

Time: 13h00-14h30

Venue: Huma Seminar Room,

4th Floor, Neville Alexander Building (formerly known as the “Humanities Building”)

Upper Campus, UCT

Please contact huma@uct.ac.za or 021 650 5445 for more information.